"Green Trees," the century-old residence of Col. A. J. C. and Mrs. Taylor, Grimsby, was built on the land granted by the Crown to Andrew Pettit, U. E. Loyalist.

Andrew and several other Loyalia families came into Canada from New Jersey, U.S., in the year 1787, located in this district and formed the early settlement of 'The Forty' (now Grimsby)

The first Pettit house built on Lot 15 was a log cabin dwelling near the lake shore. The homestead pictured above by Robert Alldrick was, according to family records, built entirely of timbers cleared from the farm and—great oak beams, hand hewn frame work and wide pine floors.

Recently the old farmhouse has been remodelled and equipped with modern conveniences yet has retained much of the charmand simplicity of by-gone years.

In the hall with its picturesque winqug stairway and spacious rooms opening on either side one feels that there is an atriosphere of gracious hospitality to greet the guests who today enter its friendly doors.

No change or alterations have been made to this grand old building by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor except the closing in of one end of the front veranda to make a show room for their fine line of handicraft, antiques, woollens and other high grade merchandise for which they have a great demand both locally and from distant points as well as from visiting guests from the United States and Canadian provinces.

New Government Regulations Demand That Manager Be On The Floor At All Times-This Does Away With Dual Manager - Operator Position.

Changes have been taking place in theatrical circles in Grimsby the past few days and as a result the Roxy has a new manager, Art Vickers, who has been manager for the past three years becomes chief projectionist and "Chuck" Mac-Kenzie severes his connection with the theatre.

These changes have been necessitated by the Motion Picture Censorship and Theatre Inspection which insists that the manager must be on the floor of theatre auditorium during each and every performance, naturally Mr. Vickers could not be in two piaces at one time, on the floor of the auditorium and in the projection room, hence the change around. Mr. Vickers could have had the managerial role and a new projectionist would have been sent to Grimssby, but he preferred to remain in charge of the projection room.

The new manager, Larry Ryan, comes to Grimsby with many years of experience in the moving picture field. He started his career as a kid in the United States and then came to Canada. He has been assistant manager and manager of theatres at several points in Canada including the large Eigin theatre in Ottawa. He comes to Grimsby from the Biltmore in Oshawa.

Mr. MacKenzie could have remained in the theatrical field if he had so desired as the owners of the Roxy offered to place him with another theatre some place else in

FACTS & FANCIES

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

GLORY OF MORNING

It was Walt Whitman who observed: "A morning glory at my window satisfies me more than the metaphysics of books."

And at this season of the year Nature has few greater floral glories to offer than this hardy flower. As one admirer puts it, man rarely has been so happy in his selection of names for the flowers with which he is blessed than in the choice of morning giory for that most common member of the Ipomose family. This vine, so hardy that it thrives in urban pots and window boxes, attains its richest flowering at this period just before the first frosts.

On a bright morning in early Autumn, its brilliant trumpets seem lifted to sing the wonders of nature. Even the most hurried and worried man on his way to his daily grind is likely to pause momentarily at the sight of the brilliant blue blossoms to admire the delicacy of its petals which unfold to the morning light and, after devoting the day to glorifying their Creator, bow at dusk. From the briefest contemplation man can gain a feeling of uplift which will linger for hours.

TAKE-HOME PAY

In one of the Ford departments, employing 9,000 men, at River Rouge, the take-home pay problem became so acute that wives started to complain about the cuts in wages their hubbies seemingly had to take. "What's all this about?" enquired Henry Ford, Junior.

The sociological department got busy and launched a searching investigation. It was found that the gambling turnover, or losses, reached at least a total of $300,000 per month in that one department. The report does not state specifically what form the gambling took-it could hardly be bridge or pokerand the chances are that it was Little Joe, Snake-Eyes and Seven-Come-Eleven, the roll of the ivories. Worse than that, it was all on company time. The sad result was the dismissal of 19 employees, including three foremen and the disciplining of 17 others.

The interesting commentary is also added, that there was no criticism of the union. and it is implied that the union will not precipitate any outlaw strike in protest against the company action.

HE ASKED FOR IT

It is unusual, in fact it makes news, to hear of the dismissal of any Ontario civil servant. That has been the case ever since Premier Drew came into power. He has stood like a rock against the use of the guillotine, the patronage system whereby men of the wrong faith have to walk the plank when a new government comes in. The Premier, it is well known, has resisted the pressure of his friends. His administration has been in deadly contrast to that of M. F. Hepburn, who fired every Tory in the service, for no more reason than the political affiliation of the victim. He fired by the many score men who gave service to their country in the First Great War.

A case has arisen where under Section 160 of the Civil Servants' Act, an employee at the Ontario Reformatory has been dismissed. The ground for the dismissal was a public utterance by the employee, at a meeting of civil servants of the Toronto hospital branch of the Civil Service, when unionization was under discussion. The statement, which had the touch of venom, was to the effect that if they attempted to unionize "Premier Drew will reach into that tattered bag of his for the old red flag and shout Communism."

Section 160 of the Act states that no civil servant is permitted to make public statements without the consent of the Minister whose department is concerned. In other words, the offender was really asking for it.

A NICE GIFT An Ottown news item says:

"A horse-drawn coach of dark wood, upholstered in white and with carpeted steps, which carried the man who influenced the Quebec Act, 1774, and the Constitutional Act, 1791, and who turned back the United States pyagion of Canada 1775-1776, is to be presented to the archives by the present Earl of

The coach was that of Sir Guy Carleton, Quartermaster General of General Wolfe in the siege of Quebec and later Governor-in-Chief of North America, 1786-1796, who later became the first Lord of Dorchester.

Lady Dorchester gives reluctant consent. to parting with the old vehicle, which has been in the family care for so long, and she can hardly be blamed for the sentiment. But Lord Dorchester wants the coach to be preserved in Canada. It must be a stout relic, built in times when there were no paved Tens of thousands have seen the Napoleon coach in London, and great crowds took an interest in Hitler's deluxe car with its bulletproof glass. Now Canada is to have a State vehicle used even before Napoleon's time. This coach fairly exudes early Canadian histors.

WILL THEIR SACRIFICE BE IN VAIN?

Every year fire takes a terrific toll of life and property in Canada. Deplorable as is the loss to property, life loss by fire is noth-ing short of a crime on our civilization for the reason that in the majority of cases it is so

In 1946, 406 men, women and children paid the supreme sacrifice demanded by the fire demon and in the past ten years 3067 persons have suffered the same fate. Of this latter number, 1206 were children. The numbr of children who died by fire in 1946 was 164, the highest annual toll in the ten year period 1937-46.

Have these unfortunate victims made their sacrifice in vain? They will have if we do not learn the lessons which these tragedies should teach. For instance, from study of the causes of fire fatalities we find that 16 children died from fire last year when left alone in their homes. Parents should not under any circumstances, leave helpless little children or even children of tender age exposed to the possibility of fire for even a few minutes. We see too that six children were burned to death playing with matches. The responsibility for such happenings is definitely that of the parents and more particularly that of the mothers.

We note further in our study that 21 persons died from fires started by stoves, furnaces and heaters; 12 from electrical appliances; 15 from carelessness in smoking; 11 because gasoline was used to kindle the fire: and 18 from the use of kerosene for the same purpose. We could enumerate a dozen or so other reasons for people dying by fire. They all add up to pretty much the same conclusion:- needless death.

Will we, who hope never to suffer the same fate, learn to be careful with fire in all its phases and thereby help to reduce the terrible toll taken of Canadian lives every year by that dreaded scourge? We can greatly improve our way of life and incidentally live longer if we observe the simple principles of fire prevention that of Always Being Careful.

INATTENTION IS CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

Institution, impatience and incompetence, in that order, are the major causes of traffic accidents, says W. G. Robertson, general manager of the Ontario Motor League, speaking in support of the Ontario Department of Highways' safety program. He believes that inattenttion leads to more traffic accidents than all other causes combined.

"If," says Mr. Robertson, "close attention were given to the movement of traffic by all road users, at all times, road accidents would be greatly reduced in number."

He scores the chance taker who is "observant but too keen to get ahead in traffic and cuts his margin of safety too fine," and the very slow driver "who frequently is the indirect cause of accidents by provoking normally careful drivers to take chances." Mr. Robertson believes that the speeding up of alow drivers and the slowing down of speeders would help to prevent accidents, and would also facilitate an even flow of traffic.

The Motor League manager endorses the new amendments to the Highway Traffic Act which, he says, "provide for the suspension of a driver's license and owner's permit, fillowing a conviction of various offences including failure to observe a traffic sign or signal if even minor injury or damage to property occurs in connection therewith."

Referring to the official records which show that in the great majority of accidents the driver has had an average of five years' experience and has never been involved in previous accident, Mr. Robertson emphasizes that an accident can happen to anyone in an unguarded mement and that constant vigilance is the price of safety.

"There is," he declares, "no substitute for care in preventing accidents. Whatever else may be done, ultimately, it is only through the vigilance of every individual that the total number of traffic accidents can be substantially reduced.

(By Bones-Livingston, Sportologist)

THE PREACHER HOCKEY BALL PLAYER-I had the very. very, very great pleasure last week of having a chat with a man I had not laid eyes upon in 42 years and yet have thought of many many times, and in my newspaper capacity have followed his brilliant career. I do not mind telling you that many things that this man did in sporting life in Grimsby left a far greater impression upon me than anything that he ever did in the pulpit. That sounds funny, but when you read on you will realize the reason why.

I walked across Main Street last Wednesday afternoon and in front of the Busy Bee a fine looking, elderly gentleman, with two little tade in tow, stepped up and said. "you are Livingston?" I replied, "yes." "You do not remember me," he said. I replied, "no." He laughed a hearty, cheerful laugh and said "It is 42 years since I left Grimsby." My name is Baker." I came back at him like a jet propellor. "You are Perrin Baker." He answered, "yes."

Folks, Reverend Perrin E. Baker, Grimsby Baptist Church, a triple 648. . . . LIMEY are has the alleys in excellent condition. taught me more sportsmanship and set me a greater example of what a good sportsman should be than any man that ever lived and I was only a brat of a kid when he was doing it. He left, and no doubt did others kids in this town of all denominations, that same indelible impromises.

Rev. Perrin Baker was Pastor of Grimsby Baptist Church in 1903 and 1904 and left here in 1905. During his regime here he was a Mar member of the then PEACH KINGS. He was a centre ice player and in his day another PUD REID. Those were the days of the old Doran Rink on Oak Street where the storage house of the U.D.L. now stands. Those were the days of the bloody battles between REAMS-VILLE and ORDESBY. Those were the days of ringers, such as Texas Gillard and others.

During his two years here he had a great effect in toning down the hot temperaments of both the players and the fans of both municipalities. That also went for baseball. He also tousd down the atmospheric conditions (blue and otherwise) around the rink and the ball field. He left a great impression behind

During our conversation he asked me about the welfare and the whereabouts of his old fellow players on both teams, particularly about BILL FARBROTHER of BEAMSVILLE and PUNK WALKER, PER-CT TEETER and BULL BROWN-BUITH of GRIMSBY.

Since leaving Grimsby he spent four years at the University of Illinois and then went to the Great Canadian West where he farmed a great tract of wheat land and eventually became a member of the Alberta government and was for years Minister of Education for that province, and as the records will show, and no doubt many of our Ukrainian citizens now residing here will tell you, lifted that department out of the doldrums and made it a leader in the Dominion system of education.

It was a great pleasure to have a man that you have more or less held up before your eyes as an example come back and visit, particularly when he recognized you upon the street after 42 years, and you did not know him from a load of hockey sticks and ball buts. It really was a pleasure. Just to show you how impressions last, here is a true incident that took place on Lake Lodge cricket crease. During Mr. Baker's stay 9.00—Gas House vs. Rockets Grimsby had a pretty fair gricket team. Knowing his basefull prowum 9.00-Boulevard vs. Pin Twisters the cricket club decided to make a cricketer out of him. He was willing. In the field he was 100 per cent. At but he was a baseball player, Bat over the shoulder ready to whang. That was O.K., but while a cricket howier will how! many a high pitch it will come in at the wicket pretty low. Many a cricket player holds his but high and comes down, but Mr. Baker would baseballically step out of the batter's crease just about the time that that ball was dropping, meet it aquaraly and Hand's fishing boats would pick it up in the lake. That was not cricket. If memory 9.06-Firemen vs. M hums. serves me right he did not last long on the cricket team. It was another case of trying to make a race horse out of a plough horse. You could not make a cricketer out of a baseball player at his stage in life any more than you can make a 100 yard sprinter out of a 60-year-old man. Hope to meet you again, Mr. Baker. If you are in Ontario this winter watch the PEACH KINGS. Watch them anyway, no matter where you are.

One of the fine things about Canada to that it isn't only the vital who meet the ritzy. The Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Crasly have of chances when it comes to meeting the mayor, leaders of our country a even royalty, when they visit our shores.

The only catch about unexpectedly being introduced to a guished personage is-how to address him? Well, let's look into it right

If you are introduced to the mayor, call him "Mr. Mayor" the first time you address him, or "Your Worship," If the conversation carries on, you then drop the more formal title and call him by his own name. In other words, call him "Mr. Doe," of that's his name

Canada has approximately 25 senators, and we are apt to run into any one of them, quite often. "Senator Doe," you say when you first address him, and after that you can atther call him "Senator" or "Mr. Doe."

The premier of your province is "alled "Mr. Fremier" when first addressed. (He may also be addressed "Mr. Prime Minister"). When the conversation becomes more informal, you call him ,'Mr. Doc." (What would we do without Mr. Doe?)

Canada's prime minister is addressed as "Mr. Prime Minister" when first spoken too and "Mr. King" when the conversation continues.

When it comes to the lift tenant-governor of a province, he is called "Your Honor" when first addressed and becomes "Mr. Doe" in further conversation.

If introduced to the governor general, rules of addressing him differ somewhat. This representative of the King in Canada may be a member of royalty. If this is the case, he is addressed in royal terms (see next paragraph). But if, as - the case of our present governorgeneral, he is not of royal blood, the parrect form of address when first speaking to him is "Your Encellency," and after that he is spoken to as Royalty-the King is addressed as "Your Majesty" (but, of course, you wait for him to speak first), and if the conversation carries on, you call him "Sir" thereafter. The Queen is called "Your Majorty" at first and thereafter you address her "Man." Princes, princesses and all other members of the royal family are first spoken to "Your Royal Highness" and then "Sir" or "Mam."

A key to the whole problem is that the King or his representative is addressed according to his degree, while an elected representative of the people is addressed according to his office.

QUESTIONS-ETIQUETTE-ANSWERS TABLE MANNERS: May S., Moose Jaw, Saak., asks; "Is it correct, when eating sandwiches in a cafe, to cut them into small pieces and eat them with a fork? Or is it better to take the sandwich in your fingers and out it that way?"

ANSWER: All sandwiches (except hot, juicy ones floating in gravy) are eaten in the fingers. A large sandwich is broken in half, or a club sendwish may be cut in two, and then held firmly in the fingers and sates that way.

TABLE SETTING: Mrs. R.H.T. Coronation, Alta., writes: "When serving tea at which only a fork is to be used for onke or minced tart, on which side of the ten plate should the fork be laid?" ANSWER: Dessert fork, when used for cake at tea, is usually placed at the right-hand side of the plate. Readers are invited to address etiquette problems to Claire Wallace. Write Claire Wallace, care The Grimsby Independent, Grimsby, Ontario, Canada. Rellies will appear in this column.

CERTIFIED

Business took a young man to the small town where his parents were raised. At the local dance hall be met an attractive girl who lived a few miles out on a farm. Next day he telephoned her, gave his name and asked her to go for a drive. While the young lady hesitated a moment over her reply a strange voce chipped in: "Go along, Grace, he ain't one of them wolves. His ma was Minnie Jones and his pa worked for the bank."

HIGH HEELS

Dr. E. S. Priester told the annual conference of the Association of Science that many girls never get married because they wear high hools. He claims mental instability is often traceable to bad feet, which also contributes to the high divorce rate in the U.S. Business and profemional woman who are on their feet all day often become impolite and irritable because of had feet. Another doctor says 100 years from now a woman's foot will be shaped like a horse's hoof-which should be quite a break for those in the blacksmith business at that time.

LIGHT TONES HARMONIZE BEST WITH WALL PAPERS

Light tones in wall and ceiling paints harmonine best with wallpapers and water paints, as well as with woodwork. Intense colors of some prepared paints can be light ened by adding white paint or by adding a complementary color. Buy the complementary colors as tubes of oil pigment and mix the pigment with turpentine to add to the paint for getting the desired tone. Woodwork and doors painted the oulor of the wall make a room appear larger, and also help take notice away from any awkwardly designed woodwork or poorly placed windows or doors. Paint is better for ceilings than paper, as it has no seams, and does not dis color as easily. Use water paint if cost of paint is considered too high but even theo, remove paper first even if it is in good condition, s seams would show and the paper might crack after the water pain

To make paint last longer and to make cleaning easier, use paste wax on window sills, space around door knobs and mouldings above baseboards.

TARTAR ON TEETH

Tartar on teeth is composed of lime and other mineral substances from the saliva, hardened around enough decomposing food particcells from the lining of the mouth to give it a porous structure and an unpleasant odor. It builds up its
